Kids Helping Kids with Cancer!

Kids are beating cancer today better than ever before (the survival rate is now 80 percent while 50 years ago it was only 20 percent). Huntsville Hospital for Women & Children provides special medical care for kids with cancer—and you can help!

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month. Fun Run participants are invited to help local kids with cancer and support pediatric oncology at Huntsville Hospital for Women & Children.

Start collecting donations today from family and friends and bring them with you on race day. You will receive a special power band to show that you are helping kids with cancer!

Huntsville Hospital for Women & Children serves pediatric oncology patients and their families from the Tennessee Valley.

Race Information

September 22, 2011

Who can run in the race?

Any child, preschool through eighth grade, may run and receive a T-shirt. Parents may run with smaller children, but adults do not receive T-shirts unless they make a $5 donation after 5:45 p.m. (while supplies last).

If my child misses his scheduled race, can he run with another group?

Yes. A child can run in another category if he misses his group or if he feels more comfortable running with a friend or sibling. But a child can only win or place when he runs with his own grade. He will receive a T-shirt, but he will not qualify for a medal or ribbon.

Where is the race?

The one-mile fun run course is located at the Jaycees Building on the north end of the runway of the Old Huntsville Airport. You are asked to enter the area via Airport Road on South Memorial Parkway and to exit the event using Johnson Road and Leeman Ferry Road.

Is there a registration fee?

There is no registration fee, but donations to the Hospital Foundation are appreciated and will benefit pediatric oncology at Huntsville Hospital for Women & Children.

Fair Play

To officially place in any race a child must cross the finish line alone. You may run with your child, but you cannot assist in a placement. Make sure your child understands the race course. Each child must begin at the starting line to qualify for a placement or T-shirt.

Who receives a T-shirt?

Each child who finishes the race will receive a T-shirt. There will only be one T-shirt per child regardless of the number of times the child runs. Sizes will consist of youth small, youth medium, youth large, adult small, adult medium and adult large, and will be distributed on a first-come first-serve basis. Size exchanges will not be made until the end of the last race of the day.

Reminder

As the race grows in popularity, traffic increases. Allow ample travel time.

Lost Child/Parent

In the event a child and parent cannot locate each other after the race, please go to the awards stage.

Publicity

Please note that the Autumn Chase is a public event which, on occasion, attracts media attention. Huntsville Hospital also takes photographs that are sometimes used for marketing and advertising purposes. By participating in this event, you grant the right to use your or your child's image(s) for such purposes.
